Yes – stupid nonsense! And people know it! The sub-title comes from one of my earlier articles against homosexuality, titled ‘Homophobia – Stupid Nonsense’ (O-051, 1994). The claims made by homosexuals are stupid across the board, as is their accusation that everyone else expresses ‘hate’. As Transgenderism is just as stupid and is from the same homosexual sewage farm, I use the same sub-title!

It is ALL stupid nonsense, unworthy of consideration or discussion, especially not in academic circles. Yet, we are forced to talk about it, because this newer brand of homosexual stupidity is demanding a place in the hall of infamy, silencing critics along the way. What comes next? Being forced to laugh at jokes? (Might sound absurd, but that is exactly what happened in the time of Stalin, along with feigned applause after his speeches!).

There is no such thing as ‘transgender’. It is yet another link in the homosexual agenda and their own invention. One’s birth sex is fixed, as is gender. That some might think they are somewhere in-between or off the scale does not alter this scientific and medical fact.

The stupidity and anti-intellectualism of transgender is being flaunted by homosexuals and those who want to earn those Stonewall bottle-top ‘awards’ because their academic career is sinking (or stinking, not sure which), who think that a Stonewall endorsement is the highest accolade. You know, like being desperate to be given approval by a fake university, or being praised by one of those vile African or Korean despotic totalitarian leaders experienced in murder.

The arguments against giving traction to ‘transgender’ are ignored, so that homosexuals can include yet another bizarre category to its long list of ABCDE... or whatever it now is! Bunkum takes pride of place and facts are ignored. This is why a website exists to counter the lies and deception of homosexual demands about ‘transgender’ ( www.sexchangeregret.com ).

This site shows that in 100 international medical studies of post-operative transsexuals, a huge number regret what they did – up to 20% (others contacted did not even reply). Their lives did not live up to their anticipated desired results and there was NO evidence to prove surgery improved the lives of so-called transgenders. In fact, most became ultra-distressed and suicidal! Just so homosexuals can claim special status for their morbid and destructive life patterns (The Guardian, David Batty, 30th July 2004) (University of Birmingham, research intelligence unit).

A number of psychiatrists are now realising that transgenderism is a mental aberration rather than a real physical need. One, referring to ‘gender dysphoria’, said “The medical treatment of delusions, psychosis or emotional happiness is not by surgery”.

Dr J Berger was one of a committee that brought in the awful ‘bathroom bill’ that gave so-called ‘transgenders’ the right to go into a toilet unit of the opposite sex (thanks to Obama).

Berger warned against it: “‘Transgendered’ are people who claim that they really are or wish to be people of the sex opposite to which they were born, or to which their chromosomal configuration attests,” he stated. “Sometimes, some of these people have claimed that they are ‘a woman trapped in a man’s body’ or alternatively ‘a man trapped in a woman’s body.’” “Scientifically, there is no such thing,” he said.’

AND: “On the other hand,” he said, “if these people are asked to clarify exactly what they believe, that is to say do they truly believe whichever of those above propositions applies to them and they say ‘no,’ then they know that such a proposition is not true, but that they ‘feel’ it, then what we are talking about scientifically, is just unhappiness, and that unhappiness is being accompanied by a wish -- that leads some people into taking hormones that predominate in the other sex, and even having cosmetic surgery designed to make them ‘appear’ as if they are a person of the opposite sex.”

AND: “The proper treatment of emotional unhappiness is not surgery,” said Dr. Berger. “Cosmetic surgery will not change the chromosomes of a human being. Cosmetic surgery will not make a man become a woman, capable of menstruating, ovulating, and having children. Cosmetic surgery will not make a woman into a man, capable of generating sperm that can unite with an egg or ovum from a woman and fertilize that egg to produce a human child...These are the scientific facts.”

“There seems to me to be no medical or scientific reason to grant any special rights or considerations to people who are unhappy with the sex they were born into, or to people who wish to dress in the clothes of the opposite sex -- which I believe is not illegal,” said Dr. Berger.’

“In concluding his remarks, Dr. Berger said, “I have read the brief put forward by those advocating special rights [for the transgendered], and I find nothing of scientific value in it. Words and phrases are used that have no objective scientific basis such as ‘the inner space....

[T]he so-called ‘confusion about their sexuality’ that a teenager or adult has is purely psychological.” (Source: CNS News, 2nd Feb. 2016).

My own question is very simple – how on earth can ANY researcher, psychologist or medical doctor possibly align with transgender claims as valid, when all the medical and scientific facts speak against it? It can only be done by forgetting all norms, truth, common-sense and real research methodology and findings. That is, they must be just as stupid as the term ‘transgender’. It is only after homosexuals smashed through the truth barrier that this kind of stupidity has taken root in what used to be genuine scientific/medico execution of research.

All sense seems to have left these people and even medical doctors. I see a parallel stupidity in ‘green’ claims, where science is jettisoned in favour of emotional appeals and esoteric eastern mysticism; in such a scenario highly trained scientists deliberately claim the faux science to be true, just to make sure they continue receiving funding from a government also in denial about true science. And exactly the same happens in the realm of ‘evolution’... the lies and deception just keep on coming.

As I have asked before, if a ‘patient’ claimed he was an elephant, would doctors be willing to accommodate the delusion by giving an extra two legs, a trunk, tusks and a tail? And, if they could, replace the human brain with that of an elephant? Again – stupid! Since when is intellectual validity equal to the delusions of psychologically damaged individuals? Since when are we allowed to ditch intellectual truth in favour of psychiatric disturbances that harm the individual?

Those who say they are someone of the opposite sex are badly skewed in their minds, but homosexualists prefer to use them in their great experiment rather than strike the delusion down swiftly and firmly. Whether given their wishes (surgery and legal support) or not, those inflicted with the delusion suffer. Surgery makes no difference to the continuance of their delusion, except to strengthen it further, making the sufferer even worse. And ‘experts’ make the situation REALLY bad. As The Daily Signal says in its video, “The rush to embrace the transgender agenda is based on ideology, not science, and children struggling with gender dysphoria may be the most vulnerable victims.”

In reality Transgenderism is just another brand of homosexuality, and both are mental aberrations, but is being used by homosexuals to advance and build-up their agenda, with all those other stupid letters of the alphabet. This ridiculous use of postnominals is used to make homosexuality a bigger deception than it already is... they all still come from the less than 1% of people who say they are ‘homosexual’ at any given point in their lives. (The actual figure at any given time is far less, because so many leave homosexuality). But, by adding all those postnominals they try to inflate the actual number. So, what can we call this silly number-crunching? Yes – stupid.

It is true that all homosexuals have mental and emotional imbalances. Every homosexual I have ever met displays the characteristics of at least neurotic syndromes, and some of them were really bad in terms of anxiety symptoms. This has nothing at all to do with victimisation, etc. It is how these men and women arrived at their chosen sexual outlet in the first place... they become homosexual after a period of inner conflict, caused by knowing what they do is wrong, against what gay propaganda says. It is that conflict that leads to depression and suicide. Nothing to do with social persecution... drink salt water and you will vomit. Simple as that!

Homosexuals will do anything to further their sexually depraved cause. Child abuse is part of this radical movement, as Dr Michelle Cretella said (Daily Signal, 3rd July, 2017); as president of the American College of Pediatricians, she should be listened to. Don't listen to those wicked parents who push their children into transgenderism when they don't even understand what it means, or those homosexuals whose only interest is their own sexual lusts – what happens to your child is of no concern to them! Dr Cretella uses the correct terminology when she says “... transgender ideology is not just infecting our laws. It is intruding into the lives of the most innocent among us – children - and with the apparent growing support of the professional medical community.”

I have used the same terminology about homosexuality itself... it is like a cancer, or an infection, that kills. When we make laws to protect them we are making their death-wish a priority.

AND

“As explained in my 2016 peer reviewed article, “Gender Dysphoria in Children and Suppression of Debate,” professionals who dare to question the unscientific party line of supporting gender transition therapy will find themselves maligned and out of a job... I have witnessed an upending of the medical consensus on the nature of gender identity. What doctors once treated as a mental illness, the medical community now largely affirms and even promotes as normal.”

As a nurse I witnessed this first-hand as I was ousted from an important job by fellow nurses, whose minds were left behind in a trash-can, and whose support for what kills is astonishing for a health care profession. I also know of medical doctors who have lost their jobs for daring to question the accepted view of the day, even though that view is unscientific and unbearably wrong.

Dr Cretella warns that so-called ‘dysphoria’ clinics have mushroomed since it has been made a new cause attracting funding! And the ‘treatments’ they give are far from proven to be ‘safe’. In all cases these ‘professionals’ ‘affirm’ the dysphoria instead of rebuking it and sending it packing. I can almost guarantee that if this nonsense was removed from the thinking of everyone, cases of so-called ‘dysphoria’ would quickly dissipate. It is a fact that if doctors said having an eye removed and both ears amputated was the new ‘it’ theme in medicine, there would be plenty of people wanting the ‘diagnosis’ and ‘treatment’! But, to remove this idiocy takes truth, scientific and medical honour, and intellectual honesty. Given special funding, these are allowed to be cast overboard. In this way the potential and actual health risks to children are ignored.

Dr Cretella adds that no-one is born “trapped in the body of the wrong sex”. Does this REALLY have to be said? Surely common-sense and science dispels these ridiculous notions! Yes, they do – but against homosexual thuggery it stands no chance. I urge you to read the Dr Cretella comments for yourself.

A staggering 96% of all transgender youth self-harm. I am not surprised by this, because young people are not fully developed, and tend to see issues in just black and white. Also, they are easy prey for homosexuals who seek out ‘fresh meat’ (their words not mine). “virtually all transgender students are self-harming in Scotland”

The foul Stonewall confirmed these high numbers through a study undertaken by the University of Cambridge, who were astonished by the “incredibly high levels” of mental disturbances in transgenders.

( http://www.stonewallscotland.org.uk/sites/default/files/school\_report\_scotland\_2017\_1.pdf )

Of course, Stonewall will use the figures to ‘prove’ that ‘homophobia’ causes direct harm... when it does not. Why should they think the figures are astonishing? Homosexual behaviour is the result of breaking through a taboo barrier. As I have shown elsewhere, once we do this we make it much easier to perform the same taboo behaviours again - the more we do it the easier it becomes, until fantasy overtakes reality, and we enter into a way of life that contradicts our consciences and truth. This produces an inner turmoil that cannot be justified or even rationalised, and that leads to depression, anxiety, many neuroses, and suicide. It has nothing to do with normal society. The same report said that the number of homosexuals who self-harm is almost as many as those in the ‘transgender’ group. Of course they will self-harm – they KNOW their sexual choices are wicked, and this competes against their consciences. Former ‘transgenders’ also know this.

Though Stonewall says bullying and social rejection cause this self-harm. I would deny this. Those who live normally hate the repulsive image of fellow youngsters trying to be something they are not, and this can invoke anger and even violence. It is not surprising and is ‘natural’. In older young men for example, it can be highly provocative for an homosexual to ‘mince’ his way amongst them; indeed, as I remember from my own (unsaved) youth, I was furious that such men were even in my presence! Why? Because it is unnatural and wicked and somehow casts a dark shadow over what is right. (Later, in a psychiatric setting, consultant psychiatrist tried to say it was because I was a latent homosexual... it did not take long to make them look foolish!). So, the answer is not ‘more of the same’ (Re Stonewall), but a complete cessation of the furthering of homosexuality in all its hues.

“It is false and misleading to say ‘bullying’ is causing 40 percent of trans people to attempt suicide,” he told LifeSiteNews. “People who are emotionally, socially and psychologically mentally fit do not attempt suicide, yet 40 percent of transgender persons do attempt suicide. It’s because they have serious mental disorders.” (Heyer, life site news. As above).

I must confirm this, because ALL homosexuals have mental imbalances. And, as studies in Suicide.org prove, over 90% of people (including homosexuals/transgenders) who committed suicide had mental disorders. As Heyer says (he was once a transgender), the homosexual idea (of course!) to ‘normalise’ transgenderism will only perpetuate and make worse the problem. There was a time not very long ago, when all this would be a matter of common sense and reality. Now, the stupid has become the ‘new reality’ (though it is not) and we are not even allowed to laugh in derision.

As some of you know, I do not believe (from actual observation and academic study) there is such a thing as ‘mental illness’, so anything I refer to as ‘mental illness’ is merely to use what is a common definition...

“Over 90 percent of people who die by suicide have a mental illness at the time of their death. And the most common mental illness is depression.” ( <http://www.suicide.org/suicide-causes.html> )

Those of us who have worked in this field concur. And, some are depressed almost routinely, because of a ‘predisposition’ (genetics). I can argue a case against most psychiatric definitions, but this one will do for our present purposes. It is my view that there is no genetic cause, but there can certainly be a predisposition, such as family history of mental disturbance, not being taught how to cope with life’s problems, and so on. There are also physical predispositions, such as brain trauma, brain disease, and so on.

If you look at the life of king Saul, you will find a man who left a holy life and delving deeper and deeper into sin. It was this losing of God’s grace and gaining of sin that led to him constantly having what today might be called bi-polar (an invented condition with emotional causation), and which finally led to him committing suicide. The possibility of being captured by enemies was only a part of his demise.

Today, many people are the cause of their own emotional and mental pain – drugs, alcohol, ungodly beliefs and behaviour, and so on. Some will, then, kill themselves, because they see no way out. And some are taught by family and friends that life is just misery. In truth there IS no way out if one casts God aside.

There is no way to make light of suicide, but we can say categorically that the chosen lifestyle of some will automatically lead to emotional distress. By this I mean choosing what is unnatural, ungodly, unhealthy and false. Homosexuality comes into this class, as does transgender, which is a sub-class of homosexuality. When people do what is grossly wrong, their inner beliefs or knowledge clashes with what others tell them. And this eventually arrives at a position where mental disturbance occurs. And this may lead to suicide.

Thus, transgenders/homosexuals KNOW they are wicked and KNOW what they do is grossly wrong. They want peace but never achieve it, because the source of peace is the God they despise and the laws He commands us to live by. Transgenders/homosexuals deliberately evade this fact and quickly dive into poisoned waters, knowing they will die of poison and drowning. The deeper they dive the greater is their mental anguish, and because there is no good end, or any ‘light at the end of the tunnel’ in their chosen lifestyle, they are left bereft of sound mind and body. This is why many want to end their lives. Only God can release them fully and effectively. By turning away from this answer, sufferers have no escape and no reason to live.

So, then, those who claim gender dysphoria/homosexuality are already mentally unbalanced before they enter into their chosen addictive sexual lifestyle. Once they give in to their selected sexual perversion, their mental condition degrades dramatically. “Cooccurring psychiatric disorders influence the outcome and prognosis of gender dysphoria. The aim of this study is to assess psychiatric comorbidities in a group of patients. Methods. Eighty-three patients requesting sex reassignment surgery (SRS) were recruited and assessed through the Persian Structured Clinical Interview for DSM-IV Axis I disorders (SCID-I). Results. Fifty-seven (62.7%) patients had at least one psychiatric comorbidity. Major depressive disorder (33.7%), specific phobia (20.5%), and adjustment disorder (15.7%) were the three most prevalent disorders. Conclusion. Consistent with most earlier researches, the majority of patients with gender dysphoria had psychiatric Axis I comorbidity.”

(PubMed.gov, Psychiatric Axis I Comorbidities among patients with Gender Dysphoria, 2014). In other words, people who choose dysphoria over truth and reality will become mentally and emotionally worse, because most start out with disturbed minds anyway. The same goes for homosexuals.

It is my claim that if this nonsense about so-called gender dysphoria was not in the public domain and treated with kindly acceptance, there would be relatively no cases of it to report. As it now stands, it receives such positive coverage that children in particular want to ‘try it out’, just as they would homosexuality or any other thing that is bad for them. The more these wicked activities appear in the media the more cases will appear! After all, coverage is like advertising – it encourages people to ‘buy’ their products – sexual sin and mental imbalance. It is now the fashionable thing to have, and kids are very susceptible to this kind of adult persuasion. In other words, the coverage and sympathy amounts to grooming and abuse. This is a fact of life. It is why Teenage pregnancies fell by a dramatic 42.6% after the UK cut sex-education and birth-control funding!

Those with at least two brain cells would guess this anyway! But, it now takes a scientific study to discover this truth expensively. The secular atheistic idea was that the more teaching children get in sex, the fewer will be the problems. But, as any good parent and intellectually-savvy person knows, the exact opposite applies. When I was a teenager (until I began work) I did not hear of homosexuality and did not know it existed. This same ignorance protected all my friends from the ravages of homosexual lies and practices. The same logic applies to homosexuality and its sub-class of transgenderism. So, the more you tell kids about a sin, the more they will want to try it! Until, that is, they get pregnant, or start to die of HIV and AIDS.

“Early pioneers in gender-reassignment surgery and recent clinical studies agree that a majority of transgender people suffer from co-occurring psychological disorders, leading tragically high numbers to commit suicide. Outlawing psychotherapy for transgender people may be politically correct, but it shows a reckless disregard for human lives.”

( <http://www.thepublicdiscourse.com/2016/02/16376/> )

Some of the early trailblazers in transgender surgery, to their dismay, found that “There is too much unhappiness among people who have the surgery,” he said. “Too many of them end as suicides. 80% who want to change their sex shouldn’t do it.” But even for the 20% he thought might be good candidates for it, sex change is by no means a solution to life’s problems. He thinks of it more as a kind of reprieve. “It buys maybe 10 or 15 years of a happier life,” he said, “and it’s worth it for that.”
(as above).

But, more recent observations deny this to be the case – all who are ‘transgender’ lead miserable and unfulfilled lives! There is no happiness, only getting what they want to their own detriment. Like all addictions, there is no true happiness, only growing disillusionment and depression. Walt Heyer, who once was transgender, does not agree that the surgery produces happiness: “The reprieve is not worth it. After I had a reprieve of seven or eight years, then what? I was worse off than before. I looked like a woman—my legal documents identified me as a woman—yet I found that at the end of the “reprieve” I wanted to be a man every bit as passionately as I had once yearned to be a woman.” (As above). Interestingly, the surgeon who advocated surgery was an homosexual!

“[Those who underwent surgery] were little changed in their psychological condition. They had much the same problems with relationships, work, and emotions as before. The hope that they would emerge now from their emotional difficulties to flourish psychologically had not been fulfilled.”

(Dr Paul McHugh, John Hopkins University Gender Clinic)

“In 2015 I sat across from Dr. McHugh in his office at Johns Hopkins University and asked him the same question I had asked Dr. Ihlenfeld: Had anything changed his mind regarding surgically made genders? McHugh told me that he has yet to see a medical justification for the surgical alteration of genitalia and that it is the obligation of medical practitioners to follow the science where it leads, rather than ignoring the science to advance political correctness.”

(thepublicdiscourse.com)

(Note that this ‘expert’, too, is homosexual)

Though treatments are unsafe and bring nothing good to the patient, government is now starting to ban help for these people, just as they banned help for people who wanted to get back to normal sexuality after being homosexual: “... in the name of “civil rights,” laws are being passed at all levels of government to prevent transgender patients from receiving therapies to diagnose and treat co-occurring mental disorders.” (as above).

“Television networks such as ABC that glamorize transgenders like Bruce Jenner, in his psychological turmoil, do a great disservice to transgender people and to those who treat them by denying them a safe environment in which to tackle the deeper issues of comorbid disorders and suicide. Continuing to ignore history and the warnings in studies and reports—however inconvenient or politically incorrect they may seem—is no solution to the treatment of psychological disorders. Ignoring suicides will not help to prevent them. Outlawing certain medical interventions when we know that 90% of suicides are due to untreated mental disorders and that a majority of transgender people have coexisting psychological disorders doesn’t advance effective treatment protocols; it shuts down the freedom to follow where science leads.

Allowing a political agenda to override and silence the scientific process will not prevent suicides or lead to better treatments for this population. It’s not compassion; it’s reckless disregard for people’s lives.”

(Walt Heyer, Public Discourse, 2nd February, 2016).

Conclusion

Homosexuality produces many sexual sub-sins for the public domain, and each one is like cancer rotting societies from the inside. Transgenderism, like homosexuality, is a mental disorder, and not a condition requiring ‘treatment’, especially not surgery. It is a wild fantasy found deep inside those with mental imbalance, so no new laws are needed to further its cause. Obama was very wrong and wicked to promote it as a solution. If we get back to reality, it would be prudent to dislodge homosexuality and transgenderism from their high-table and throw them to the dogs, if they refuse to face reality. There can be no sympathy for self-inflicted damage.
